Washington, Oct. 27 (AP)—The House un-American activities committee today voted John Howard Lawson, screen writer, in contempt for refusing to tell it whether he is or ever was a Communist.

Robert E. Stripling, committee investigator, said that because the present hearings on Communist activities in Hollywood are being conducted by a subcommittee the action will have to be submitted later to a meeting of the full committee.

If the contempt citation is voted by the full committee, a statement of its action is filed with the speaker of the House who can turn the matter over directly to the United States attorney for prosecution. Prosecution would be before a jury.

The law calls for a fine of $100 to $1,000 and imprisonment of one month to a year in jail for anyone found guilty.

Stands On Rights

Lawson shouted during a tumultuous exchange with Committee Chairman Thomas (R-N.J.) that he was refusing to answer the question because it was an invasion of his private rights as a citizen. He contended that it is a question which the committee has no constitutional authority to ask.

POLICE CRACK DOWN ON ACTS OF VANDALISM

It won't be Halloween until Friday night, but Gettysburg youngsters are not letting that interfere with their Halloween pranks, judging from the number of complaints filed nightly with the borough police.

As far as the police are concerned, innocent fun is one thing—damaging property is something else again, and police action is being taken against "vandals." Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster said today.

Variety of "Pranks" The "pranks" thus far committed reveal the usual wide range of Halloween versatility. Fences have been torn down or damaged; gates have been stolen, bottles broken or thrown against doors or porches.

The past week-end, particularly Saturday night, brought a new crop of complaints. A Fourth street resident made his third protestation to police, and this time furnished the names of three "suspects."

A sign was stolen Saturday night, but later was recovered and returned.

Going On for Week At a North Stratton street home a galvanized bucket was stolen from the porch. The complainant said that it was taken "by a gang of boys who have been prowling on North Stratton street for the past week."

Halloween fun of more innocent nature has been going on for the past several nights also, confined principally to the younger children of the borough. Doorbells ring, corn showers on a front porch or rattles against windows, and children go from door to door dressed in all manner of costumes.

But the real celebration isn't until Thursday night—the date of the big Halloween parade here.

DISCOVER FIRE AT CALEDONIA

Chance discovery by two men stranded by car trouble of fire in Log Cabin Inn at Caledonia Saturday was credited by a Michaux district forest official with averting serious damage to the inn and perhaps a serious forest fire in the recreation and summer cottage area.

Donald Geesaman, assistant forester of the Michaux district, said the fire in the storeroom of the inn was discovered by William Beard and Clem Ruh, chauffeurs at the Mont Alto sanatorium, when they went to the inn to get help in getting their car started.

They found the light they saw in the storeroom was caused by a fire burning in the shelving. They summoned Geesaman, whose home adjoins the inn, now closed, and three of them forced their way into the building and attacked the blaze with brooms. Geesaman called for firemen, but the blaze had been extinguished when the Franklin community pumper arrived from Chambersburg.

Damage to the inn, owned by the State Department of Forests and Waters and leased by A. V. Rock, of Waynesboro, has been estimated by Geesaman at $100. He blamed a short in the electric wiring for causing the fire.

Youth Treated For Accident Injuries

Frank Dinmore, 18, Hunterstown, was treated at the Warner hospital for minor brush burns of the scalp and an abrasion to his left index finger suffered when the car in which he was riding overturned five times on the Littlestown road one-fourth mile south of here at 8 o'clock Sunday night.

State police, who investigated, said Dinmore was riding in a car operated by Mark L. Arentz, 16, Gettysburg R. 1. No reason was immediately given by police as to why the car, which did not strike anything, turned over on the highway. Damage to the coupe was listed as $200.

EXCEPTIONS TO ESTATE REPORT ARE DISMISSED

The Adams county court Saturday handed down an opinion dismissing exceptions to the report of the auditor in the estate of Edward Laughman, late of Oxford township.

In the case Katie E. Sipe, Oxford township, had claimed that $4254 was due her for services rendered, board, lodging and nursing of the decedent. The court held that an alleged verbal contract between Mrs. Sipe and Laughman whereby he agreed to devise his property to her was not proven by the testimony and that "even if we found that a contract existed we could not sustain the exceptions and allow the claim of the exceptant (Mrs. Sipe). An oral contract to devise real estate is within the statute of frauds and cannot be specifically enforced. Upon proof of such a contract and of the breach thereof the measure of damages is the value of the service rendered and not of the estate promised."

Court's Ruling

The court held that the $5 paid weekly by Laughman plus groceries he bought and use of the house by the Sipes family probably balanced (Continued on page 6)

Here And There News Collected At Random

All noises, interfering with clear radio reception, emanating from The Gettysburg Times building have been eliminated. Disturbances from fluorescent lights, printing presses and linotype machines were eliminated some time ago. Today the noises that caused static interference from our teletypes were erased when special filters were installed. Tests were made by the local Metropolitan Edison company in conjunction with an Associated Press teletype expert which proved that all radio interference had been eliminated. The Times will conduct periodic tests to guarantee noiseless radio reception in our vicinity.

Local parents are elated with the National Broadcasting company's decision to keep crime and mystery stories off the air until after 9:30 p. m. Other networks should adopt the same policy.

on Communist activities in the movie industry.

Thomas reminded Lawson that in the past others who had refused to respond to committee questioning had been held in contempt of Congress.

A charge of contempt of Congress is subject to jury trial. Conviction carries a penalty of up to a year in jail.

At the end of the exchange between the witness and Thomas, Lawson arose from the committee chair and resumed his place in the section of the room reserved for witnesses. Some spectators booed and Thomas rapped violently for order.

Membership Card Shown
Then Louis J. Russell, a committee investigator, was called to the stand and testified that a Communist party membership card was issued to Lawson in 1944. The card, Russell said, bore number 47275 and was issued to "John Howard Lawson," identified as a movie writer.

Robert E. Stripling, chief committee investigator, took over. He read a long memorandum of what he said were Lawson's activities showing his Communist affiliation. Stripling also read several articles he said Lawson had written for the Communist newspaper, the Daily Worker.

Stripling said he also has over 100 exhibits "showing Mr. Lawson's affiliation with the Communist party."

BULLETS DROP 26-0 DECISION TO BLUE HENS

Gettysburg college's football team dropped its third straight game Saturday when it lost to the University of Delaware at Wilmington, 26-0, before some 7,500 fans.

Coach Hen Bream's lads tried an unorthodox game which saw them using flankers, many laterals, and passing from behind their own goal line, but nothing seemed to work.

The Blue Hens got away to a poor start when Tony Cervino fumbled the ball on a criss-cross from brother Joe on the kick-off return with Delaware's quarterback, Fred Spots, recovering in the 11-yard stripe. An off-side penalty cost the Blue Hens five yards and three plays later, Joe Coady bucked over from the two-yard line for the initial score of the game. End Stan Biski added the extra point.

Bullets Threaten
Throughout the remainder of the first quarter, play was fairly close with Gettysburg initiating a drive in the final minutes. Two interference penalties on passes to Bud Cauffman gave the Blue Hens the ball on the Hens' 20, but that was the farthest they advanced. After a line play lost a yard, Charlie Rambo faded back to pass and, failing to find a receiver, was chased back to midfield by the hard-charging Blue Hens.

In the second quarter, the Blue Hens advanced the ball beyond the midfield stripe several times only to have interceptions halt them.

Delaware's second six-pointer came in the final minute of the second quarter when Coady tossed a 13-yard pass to Sam Marcum in the end zone after Delaware blocked a punt to secure the ball deep in Blue Hens territory. Jack Gilligan blocked the extra point attempt.

The Orange and Blue appeared a disheartened and disorganized team in the second half. Gettysburg received the kick-off and failed to advance the ball. Charlie Rambo punted to Tony Storti who ran it back to the visitors' 38. Six plays later the Hens scored when Storti raced the final 12 yards to cross the goal-line standing up. The placement was wide.

Midway in the same quarter and only seven plays later the Delaware eleven tallied again when Marino Stalloni bucked through the center of the line and outplayed the secondary for 42 yards and a touchdown. Biski added the extra point with a placement.

Throughout the remainder of the game neither team mustered much offensive. Both coaches used their reserves freely.

In First Game
Bill Brown, who played basketball at Gettysburg for the past two seasons, was used midway in the final quarter for his passing ability, but he failed to connect. Brown came out for football for the first time on Monday.

All 34 Gettysburg players who made the trip to Wilmington saw action. Gene Hummel, Bob McCausland and Martin Pavelic were the standout Gettysburg linemen while Russ Wileman looked good in the backfield.

The Blue Hens out-first-downed the Blue Hens 9-7.

Bucknell will meet the Blue Hens next Saturday afternoon.

Golfers Warm Up For Ryder Matches

Portland, Ore., Oct. 27 (AP)—The stars of British and American golf were warming up today for the weekend test of skill in the seventh play of the International Ryder Cup matches.

Members of the challenging British team arrived this morning and most of the ten United States' pro stars, who will defend the gold cup emblem of golf supremacy, are expected by tonight.

STATE REMAINS HIGH SCORERS

Philadelphia, Oct. 27 (AP)—The West Chester Teachers' eleven heads the Pennsylvania college football list today after nosing out a stubborn East Stroudsburg Teachers' team 6-0 Saturday for a record of six wins without loss or tie.

Penn State also remained the state's highest scoring team with a total of 217 points.

Penn holds down number three spot on the state list with four straight wins and no defeats, followed by Slippery Rock with four victories and one tie.

Drexel Tech took over bottom spot on the list with five losses and no victories. The only other team with no wins this season is Carnegie Tech.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Oct. 27 (AP)—When the score of Columbia's amazing victory over Army was announced during the dull Penn-Navy tussle Saturday, a New York writer commented:

"Well, Lou Little has a job for another 18 years now." Actually it only has been since New Year's Day of 1934 that Lou has been riding along on one incredible triumph and the well deserved reputation for getting more out of less material than any other coach in the business. This game should carry him just as far unless the Army team collapses and Lee game very seriously and at the same time point ahead to Notre Dame. And, speaking of upsets, after Wes Fesler's remarks about where the downtown quarterbacks could go if they don't like his coaching, the road from Columbus, Ohio, to the nether regions must be densely populated.

FIRST HAND KNOWLEDGE
When Jordan Oliver took his Villanova squad to play Boston college last week, some one suggested that a good way to spend the evening before the game would be to have the squad see the Blanchard-Davis movie. "See them," snorted Oliver, "why, we helped to put them where they are now." It was in last year's Villanova game, if you don't remember, that Blanchard received the knee injury that slowed him down for a long time.

MONDAY MATINEE
More than 4,000 reservations already have been granted for the American Bowling Congress tournament in Detroit starting in March and late requests are arriving at the rate of about 100 a week.

Ted Budyniewicz, a third string tackle for the "Irish" is finding it a bit tough to live up to the guys who preceded him to Notre Dame from Cathedral High in Springfield, Mass. They were Milt Pieplu and Angelo Bertelli. Joe McCarthy and Bill Meyer, the only major league managers who never played major league baseball, both were members of the same Louisville club years ago.

Two Red Raiders Suffer Injuries
Hamilton, N. Y., Oct. 27 (AP)—Quarterback Charles Bricker, of Beaver Falls, Pa., suffered a slight leg injury in Colgate's 13-13 football tie with Brown, Coach Paul Bixler said.

Another Colgate casualty in last Saturday's game was guard Vincent Ventrano, of Endicott, N. Y., who suffered a recurring knee injury and is expected to be lost to the squad for some time. Otherwise the Red Raiders emerged in good shape for next Saturday's invasion of Penn State.

Trojans Trip GHS IN STIFF STRUGGLE 14-0

George Forney's Gettysburg high eleven gave the heavily favored Chambersburg high gridders plenty of trouble Saturday afternoon at Chambersburg before dropping a hard fought 14-0 decision.

A forward pass which ate up 68 yards late in the second period gave the Trojans their first score and in the final period Walters bucked over from the one yard line for the other tally.

The Maroons played a great brand of ball against their heavier opponents and outplayed their opponents during much of the first half. Midway in the first period Bob Hottle scampered 22 yards for a first down on the Maroons 48 but Chambersburg braced and forced the locals to punt out on the Trojan 10. Chambersburg then reeled off three straight first downs to reach the Trojan 47 as the first period ended.

Drive To Two
The Chambersburg attack bogged down and the home team kicked. Gettysburg taking the ball on its 20 from where is marched to the Trojans' two before being halted.

After pounding out a first down on the 32, Hottle raced 33 yards to Chambersburg's 35. Two plunges netted three yards. Hottle then broke away for 22 yards but a clipping penalty nullified the run and put the Maroons back on the 38. The Forney-men roared right back and Jack Ridinger raced around right end for 22 yards and a penalty against the Blue and White put the ball on the 8 as the Trojans took time out. Hottle was halted on a plunge. Knox picked up three and Bowling too on successive smashes. On the final play Hottle was stopped and Chambersburg took the ball on the two.

Score on Pass
The Trojans immediately punted out to the 41 and the Maroons were threatening again when Hottle ran 17 yards to the 24. The Maroons lost seven yards on a pass attempt and then Hottle punted to the 7. Walters and Kane picked up a first down on the 32. Schreiner then whipped a 14-yard pass to Sam Johnson who scampered 54 yards for a score. Naugle added the point on the placement and the half ended one play later.

A series of fumbles and pass interceptions kept play confined mostly to midfield in the third period with neither team offering a serious threat.

Chambersburg's second touchdown was the result of a 67-yard drive. Kane picked up a first down on the Trojans' 45. Schreiner took a pass for 8 more yards and then Quivers ran 19 yards to put the ball on Gettysburg's 27. Walters made 8 more yards and Schreiner made a first down on the 12 with five minutes of play remaining. Quivers smashed through for seven yards and in two more plays put the ball on the one from where Walters plunged over. Again Naugle converted.

A fumble on the following kickoff was recovered by the Trojans on the Gettysburg 31 but after a first down was gained on the 21 a pass was grounded as the game ended with the ball on the 15.

The Maroons outgained Chambersburg 140 to 128 on the ground. In the air Chambersburg gained 128 yards while the Maroons were blanked. The Trojans made 12 first downs to nine for the Forney-men.

Bob Hottle was again the Maroons' most consistent ground gainer. He gained 70 yards alone in the first half and had several long jaunts called back. On the third play after the Maroons got possession of the ball in the first period Hottle ran 61 yards to the Trojan 9 but officials ruled he stepped out on the 43.

The Maroons next met Hershey high here Friday night.

DELONE LOSES TO LANCASTER CATHOLIC 13-7

Heavily outweighed and out-gained on the ground and in the air Delone Catholic bowed to Lancaster Catholic's rangy eleven 13 to 7 on the Squires' field at McSherrystown Sunday afternoon before a crowd of more than 3,000 fans.

Lancaster dominated the play throughout the first half but only managed to cross into pay dirt once.

The visitors received the kickoff and in less than seven minutes had tallied. Butz, flashy Lancaster back, shouldered the burden of the initial attack, skirting tackle, passing and plunging off guard for consistent gains. The Squires were unable to stem the heavily charging Lancaster line and Butz finally plunged from the six yard strip for the first touchdown. His placement for the extra point split the uprights.

Delone Fights Back
Undaunted by this overwhelming assault the light but plucky Delone eleven lashed furiously but in vain for the remainder of the half. Al Smith, diminutive Delone sophomore, time and again punted his mates out of danger. The little sub outpunted Butz throughout the contest and his kicking rescued the Squires from perilous territory time and again. The little fellow won the plaudits of the large crowd.

The second half saw a rejuvenated Squires' eleven. Lancaster kicked off and Delone stabbed the heavy line of the visitors for consistent gains with Rider and Bennett dividing the honors. Staub managed to fling several passes for good yardage but the rangy visitors smeared most of his tosses.

Play was confined between the 25-yard stripes throughout the third quarter with Delone holding a scant margin. Their defense was much stronger than during the first two periods. Lancaster battled furiously to push across another marker but the plucky Delone team held at the crucial moments.

Squires Tie Score
Just before the third quarter closed Al Smith was roughed while getting away a punt and the Squires registered a first down on the play. This seemed to spark them to new life. On the next exchange of punts and midway in the fourth quarter the Squires put on a determined drive that carried deep into Lancaster territory. Rider battered the visitors' line for consistent gains. Staub heaved a 16-yard toss and with the ball on the visitors' six yard, stripe Staub shovel-passed to Bennett who skirted his own right end and tallied. Small added the extra point to knot the score at 7 all.

With six minutes to play Lancaster braced and again with Butz carrying the pigskin most of the time power-housed their way to the Delone five where O'Day skirted his own left tackle for the tally. Butz's placement was blocked.

The Squires fought doggedly to even the count but time and weight were too much of a handicap.

DOZEN SCHOOL ELEVENS STILL ARE UNBEATEN

By TOM SHRIVER
Harrisburg, Oct. 27 (AP)—Following setbacks handed to conference leaders over the past week-end the state's scholastic football teams turned into November with all major titles still at stake and more than a dozen teams still unbeaten.

Coadale was handed an unexpected 27-0 setback by Nesquehoning in the southern division of the eastern conference, and gave way to West Hazleton one, of the only unbeaten teams in the coal regions, with Coadale, Mt. Carmel, Lansford, and Nesquehoning all having an outside chance of eventually carrying off top honors.

Rochester Out
In the far-flung WPIAL the top ranking Rochester eleven was held to a 12-12 deadlock by Farrell and automatically went out of the race. The five unbeaten contenders for this coveted crown are New Kensington, defending champion, Brownsville, big six conference winner, Munhall, McKeesport, and Har-Brack. Next Friday Munhall and Har-Brack clash in a feature contest.

Tyrone remains at the head of the western conference with a clean slate, but is being hard pressed for top honors by Westmont, beaten only by Indiana in a non-conference game. In the same sector Indiana stayed in the unbeaten ranks with a 24-18 victory over Ebensburg, and in a resumption of a traditional game Johnstown and Altoona played to a 6-6 deadlock.

Carlisle Beats Hershey
Hanover and Carlisle, unbeaten leaders of the South Penn conference, both continued the victory march that will end for one of them next Friday when they clash at Hanover. Columbia was Hanover's victim, 6-0 in a non-conference fray, while Carlisle turned back Hershey, last year's champion, 24-6.

In the upper anthracite region the Blakely Bears are still unbeaten, the latest win coming at the expense of Archbald, 28-0. Bethlehem defeated Easton, 13-0 to move into the front among eastern grid teams, and Lebanon took undisputed possession of first place in the new Central Penn conference with an 18-6 win over William Penn of Harrisburg.

E.B. PLAYS 0-0 DEADLOCK WITH LITTLESTOWN 11

Littlestown high school outplayed the East Berlin high gridders in a Little Four conference game Saturday afternoon at Littlestown before approximately 1,200 spectators but neither team could muster enough punch for a score and a scoreless deadlock resulted.

Two weeks ago the same teams, playing football for the first time, clashed at East Berlin with East Berlin gaining a 6-0 victory.

The teams played much smoother ball on Saturday and each had scoring opportunities only to be halted by the determined play of their opponents.

The Thunderbolts outgained East Berlin 13 first downs to 3. Littlestown threw 18 passes while East Berlin took to the air 13 times.

BAN PUTS END TO FOREST USE
Harrisburg, Oct. 27 (AP)—Governor James H. Duff's ban on hunting went into effect at midnight and remains in force until enough rain falls to saturate the tinder-dry forests of the state, made arid by a drought that has lasted for 21 days.

The governor's proclamation had the effect of putting a sudden halt to the waterfowl season that opened last Tuesday, and was expected to at least postpone the start of the small game season, scheduled for next Saturday.

The proclamation also called for the closing of all state owned forest lands, not only for hunting but also for fishing. In other areas, however, the fishing privileges were not affected.

Horace B. Rowland, chief state fire warden, made a plea to all citizens of the commonwealth to co-operate with his department in trying to keep Pennsylvania free of the disastrous forest fires that are sweeping Maine and other parts of the arid northeastern states.

Only a few forest fires have been reported in Pennsylvania and most of them have been quickly extinguished. The most stubborn is located on Bald Eagle mountain, about two miles south of Williamsport, in Clinton county, and was still burning at midnight.

Prof. Baugher responded on behalf of the faculty, and was followed by Rev. Drs. Morris and Baum, of the Board of Trustees.

The building was then committed to the care of the "Gymnasium association" organized by the students. It will meet a long felt want at the college, and much credit is due to John B. Additional funds will be needed to supply additional gymnastic apparatus.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
TO APPRECIATE TOO LITTLE—TOO LATE

How very many things in this life we lose simply for lack of appreciation. Many a divorced person has learned this truth too late. It has been said that "to appreciate a thing you must lose it." And most of us have learned this through bitter experience.

It often takes a trip abroad for many, who live in the "land of the free and the home of the brave" to appreciate what they have in their own country. And yet we need to do some serious thinking—and some quick action—or we may even lose this great privilege, bequeathed to us by those who did love and who did appreciate what they fought so hard to gain, and which they so dearly hoped might be kept forever.

We need to tighten the knots to the cords of freedom that hold together the fabric of our national life. Alien and foreign prowlers are cutting away at these knots, hoping to see them slip so that the very fabric may give way. These sly and termite wolves in sheep's clothing are abroad, and eating into the very foundations of our free way of life. The only thing that they have ever known of freedom is what they enjoy here among us, while they go to their work of sabotage and devilish destruction. Wake up—lovers of your country! Not to appreciate what you have here is to lose all—perhaps.

I learn from my newspaper that a bounty is to be paid for the killing of rats, in many sections of America. Far more dangerous than these roving rodents, are their human representations, secretly gnawing away in the dark, at the very foundations of all that we hold dear and worthwhile in this life.

Who is going to offer a bounty for their destruction and riddance? In the back of their minds is for us to pay a bounty to them for our own destruction!

Those listeners in St. John's Episcopal Church at Richmond, Virginia, March 23rd, 1775, must have been stirred in their souls as Patrick Henry cried aloud: "Is life so dear, or peace so sweet, as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God!" Yet that is the program before those who would Samson the pillars that hold this Western World's Temple of Freedom.

Are we going to appreciate too little, and too late? I say, with that great Virginian—"Forbid it, Almighty God!"

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Scenery"

Just Folks

The Poet of the People

By EDGAR A. GUEST

ARITHMETIC TROUBLES

Once again we start anew
Asking: "What are eight times two?
What if apples eight you hold,
Two are given away or sold?
Come, come, children, think again,
Just how many will remain?"

Time was that my father said:
"Try to get it in your head,
Every little girl and lad
Ought to like to learn to add.
Now, then, try it just once more:
Tell me, what are eight and four?"

In good time it came my turn,
"Rithmetic is hard to learn!"
Nightly wailed my children two.
So, as parents all must do,
Patiently to teach I'd try
How to add and multiply.

Now to grandpa up they come,
Saying: "I can't do this sum!"
And I'm asking once again:
"Tell me, what are eight times ten?"
And this sad conclusion reach:
"Rithmetic is hard to teach."

SAYS EASTERN EUROPE WANTS U.S. FRIENDSHIP

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The very Rev. Dr. Hewlett Johnson, much publicized Dean of Canterbury, who has just returned to his native England after a tour of Eastern Europe, tells us that the United States can make Yugoslavia its friend "with just 2,000 trucks."

The dean said in an interview that there's a shocking lack of tools in Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Romania and Bulgaria, and added:

"All they're anxious for is to make friends with the west."

Fear Colonization
Well, well! Even Yugoslavia—for only 2,000 trucks! And these are among the countries which make up the nine-nation "cominform" recently created under direction of General Zhdanov, powerful member of Soviet Russia's politburo, to fight America's effort to rehabilitate Europe economically. Zhdanov declared that "The U.S.S.R. will put all effort into seeing that the Marshall plan is not realized."

If Dr. Johnson's observations are accurate, then he has given us further proof that the small nations of Eastern Europe are indeed under Moscow's domination. For all these countries, and Russia itself, were urged to participate in the Marshall plan. The Soviet Union turned thumbs down on the invitation, and little Czechoslovakia, which had accepted readily, reversed its decision.

The dean says the chief complaint among the people of Eastern Europe against the United States is that America wants to colonize them. He asserts that this feeling is based on the belief that the U. S. doesn't want these countries to build up industrial production which would make them more independent of highly industrialized countries.

Coming To U. S.
"But you can't blame America for that," says the doctor magnanimously. "America wants a market for its goods."

We wish the good doctor might have thought better of it. However, it apparently hasn't occurred to him that Uncle Sam might have had some altruistic intentions. It seems that all Sam is after is to increase his foreign markets and so acquire more gold. The only saving grace is that he can loan some of that gold to England—at interest, of course.

Dr. Johnson says he's coming to the United States next month to tell us about his observations in Eastern Europe. He will lecture from coast to coast.

A couple of years ago after a trip to the U. S. A. the dean said his visit had confirmed for him an opinion advanced by a predecessor as Dean of Canterbury—that America was 100 years behind the rest of the world in everything except religion, and in religion was 150 years behind.

Benevolent—Not Dominating
"I agree with him completely," Dr. Johnson declared at a rally for the London Daily Worker, the Communist organ.

About that same time the dean addressed a London meeting of the British Soviet society, observing the twenty-ninth anniversary of the Red revolution. He said Russia contained "a deep-rooted moral power equal to any known in the world"—a power which "is not going to be dominating, but benevolent to be used for the world's good."

It looks as though we backward, money-gurbing Americans have entirely the wrong slant about the benevolence of Russia. Anyway, it will be interesting to hear what Dean Johnson has to tell us. Perhaps he can help us better to understand the benevolent operations of the Soviet Union in the United Nations.

SWEDISH PLANE HITS MOUNTAIN IN GREECE; 44 DIE

Athens, Oct. 27 (AP)—The Greek air force said today that a Swedish Airlines transport, officially reported carrying 44 persons including two Americans, crashed last night into Mt. Hymettos southeast of Athens.

Airmen who flew over the wreckage said all aboard were believed killed.

The airline, ABA, announced in Stockholm that 36 passengers and eight crewmen were aboard. The crew, it said, was made up of Swedes headed by a Briton, Capt. Kenneth John Douglas.

Air force headquarters said the Skymaster struck the 3,000-foot peak of the mountain, which extends north and south in the Attica plain and rises sharply only a few miles east of Hassani airport, forming a barrier to plane entrance from the east.

Tail Catches On Peak
The plane, flying its schedule from Istanbul to Rome, flashed its last message at 7:12 p. m. (2 p. m. EST) last night. A British air force officer who flew over the wreckage said the tail of the plane was precisely on the ridge of the mountain and the forward part of the transport had dropped from 50 to 100 feet below the ridge. The forepart of the plane was believed to have cleared the peak, but the tail was caught.

The Americans aboard were reported only as a Mr. Wanner and a Miss Ruth; addresses not specified.

Wreckage of the plane was located this morning by a Greek army plane. The pilot of the Greek army plane said he could see only one person moving near the wreckage and believed the figure was that of a shepherd.

Harrisburg, Oct. 27 (AP)—Forty-seven municipalities, including Harrisburg, York, Altoona and Norristown among the largest, will vote in special referenda during the November 4 general election on the tures where they are not now per-issue of Sunday movies.

In addition, seven communities are conducting local option elections on the question of Sunday sports, including baseball and football.

WHITE HOUSE STUDY ON AID

Washington, Oct. 27 (AP)—The White House called in some 90 leaders of business and organized labor today for an off-the-record study of ways to help Europe without forcing prices at home still higher.

At the same time, two senators who usually disagree on foreign policy matters voiced hope that the special session of Congress set for November 17 will limit its work to emergency assistance and leave the multi-billion dollar long-range Marshall plan to the regular session.

This view came from the veteran Senator Tom Connally (D-Tex.), former chairman of the Foreign Relations committee, and freshman Senator George Malone (R-Nev.), who voted against most of the foreign policy issues Connally supported last session.

"If we try to debate the so-called long range Marshall plan, we'll never get through," Connally told a reporter. "I think Congress will be in a mood to give prompt attention to any stopgap plan and pass it."

Malone, in another interview, said he wants "this feeding program" separated from other proposals "so as not to confuse the people and the issues."

DEGAULLE ASKS DISSOLUTION OF NAT. ASSEMBLY

Paris, Oct. 27 (AP)—Gen. Charles De Gaulle called today for dissolution of France's national assembly and new general elections, and was promptly attacked by the communists on charges of seeking to set up "a reactionary dictatorship."

De Gaulle asserted that the results of municipal elections which were begun throughout France last Sunday and completed yesterday proved that parliament no longer represents the people and called for new voting laws to enable the national legislature to have a "coherent majority."

De Gaulle's six months old rally of the French people (RPP) piled up a larger popular vote in the elections than any other party—though it failed to show as well in rural voting yesterday as it did in the larger population centers a week ago. No party at present has a clear majority in parliament.

Cabinet Crisis
The wartime leader declared that his party's showing had spelled the beginning of the end for his arch foe, the communists.

Florimond Bonte, communist party spokesman, declared that De Gaulle's statement was motivated by a desire for "personal power" and that his desires would "clash with the will of the French people," who will know how to unite its democratic working class force.

De Gaulle's statement came amid an impending cabinet crisis and the imminent threat of strikes by three communist-dominated labor groups—the railwaymen, utility workers and government employees. These developments overshadowed the outcome to yesterday's runoff elections in France's small towns and villages, early returns from which put Premier Adolphe Herriot's radical socialist out in front.

To Ask Confidence Vote
As Socialist Premier Paul Ramadier prepared to go before parliament tomorrow and request a vote of confidence in his reshuffled cabinet, railway and postal employees affiliated with the communist-dominated general confederation of labor were summoned to meetings to decide whether they would strike for higher wages.

Their decision promised to have an important bearing on the debate which will precede balloting Thursday on Ramadier's call for a vote of confidence.

Returns from yesterday's elections, in which voters in approximately 14,800 towns or villages of less than 9,000 population completed their selection of municipal councils, were slow in coming in. First results, however, indicated that De Gaulle's RPP—which won almost 40 per cent of the popular vote in approximately 37,000 larger cities and towns last Sunday—was running a poor fifth behind the communists.

UNDERTAKERS FIGHT PERMIT

Harrisburg, Oct. 27 (AP)—The question whether anyone except a licensed undertaker can transport corpses in Pennsylvania was raised Saturday before the Public Utility Commission.

Opposing granting of a permanent certificate for an ambulance service to Frank P. Nitsche, of Punksawney, more than a score of western Pennsylvania funeral directors insisted a 1935 law bars Nitsche from serving funerals on the grounds he is not qualified "to transport corpses as he is not a licensed undertaker."

Nitsche last June received a special four-month permit to render call and demand ambulance service in connection with funerals, including the transportation of corpses at Punksawney and within a 30-mile radius.

The commission, however, has taken no action on Nitsche's application for a permanent certificate nor the request of Rufus G. Reitz, of Brookville, and 27 other funeral directors in Jefferson, Clearfield and Indiana counties, for a re-hearing in the case.

Frank D. Shimer, chief of motor transportation for the commission, said "quite a few" applications for certificates have been received from funeral directors since the original temporary permit was granted Nitsche.

He added the commission always has maintained it has regulatory authority over the operation of ambulance service operated for hire.

Duff Says Apple Crop Is Adequate

Harrisburg, Oct. 27 (AP)—Pennsylvania orchardists normally produce nine to ten million bushels annually of the finest apples anywhere says Gov. James H. Duff in noting the opening of National Apple Week Saturday.

"In spite of a less than average crop this year due to frosts at blossoming time, the supply is reported to be adequate, nearly 7,000,000

CROWD BLOCKS EISLER SPEECH

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 27 (AP)—A boisterous, jostling crowd estimated at 5,000—defying police and a chancery court order—last night forced cancellation of a Communist meeting which was to have heard Gerhard Eisler, who has been described as the No. 1 Communist in the United States.

Eisler did not appear at the meeting hall in the Contemporary club, across the street from the state house. Manuel Cantor, Mercer county secretary of the Communist party, said Eisler was in Trenton but stayed away from the hall because of "fear for his safety."

Six hundred persons jammed into the club building and boomed down each speaker who arose. Some 4,400 others—according to police estimate—milled around on the street outside.

Appeals from civic and veterans organizations failed to quiet the crowd, many of whom said they were veterans.

Three would-be speakers on the platform were not molested, and police escorted them from the hall when the meeting was called off after an hour and a half of demonstrating by their opponents.

Chancery court had ordered that there be no interference with the meeting, and Mayor Donald Connolly said he had provided "sufficient police protection"—52 uniformed and plainclothes men, constituting the capital city's entire foot police force.

ble I've seen." "Good is Goods," Russian lullaby, "Sleep Little Dove," "Zum Gali, Gali," Miss Mabelle Warren, soprano soloist, sang the Brahms, "Cradle Song" and Here is One."

Then the choir sang "Lord, Help the Poor and Needy," "John, the Revelator," and "Sinner, Please Don't Let This Harvest Pass." After a group of numbers in which the audience participated, the choir sang: "The Lord's Prayer," "There is a Balm in Gilead" and "Eless the Lord, O My Soul," "Lu-Shan Tao Jen Di Go," "Griefs and 'Last Night,'" and as the final group, "Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child," "Has Anybody Here Seen My Jesus?" and "The Lord's Gonna Move This Wicked Race."

The next choir in the series will be the Hagerstown a cappella choir, which will sing in the larger Presbyterian church auditorium on November 30. Next Sunday evening Dr. Lawrence C. Little, head of the department of religious education at the University of Pittsburgh, will be the speaker.

Chapter 16

Brant's heart sank, but he made his voice scornful.

"I never thought you were a quitter, Mac. I never expected you to give up and cry like a baby just because you stopped a slug. It didn't hit a vital spot or smash a bone."

Brant braced his elbow on a crooked knee. "Mac, if you're worrying about Crane, I have news for you. There's a first-class reason to believe that he didn't go into the chopper, but is only hiding from this man Rigby."

"Go on," the other said, his eyes narrowing.

"When I found you passed out after your fight, Crane's cap and one of his mittens were on the floor. Charlie King took them away, you remember."

"So you told me. I didn't see 'em." "It's the truth. Well they weren't the only ones that disappeared. When it was time for Jim Scott to go home next morning he opened his locker and found that someone had wiped his cap and one of his mitts."

"You think Crane swiped them?" "Who else?"

"Why didn't he take his own?" "Because," Brant said, "he wanted it thought he had been made into pulp. He knew Rigby was after him and he didn't want to face the music."

"But King claimed he saw me throw him in—"

"All King saw was a chance to make some money. He knew, one way or another, that Crane was alive, but was playing dead. It looked like a chance for him to cash in and skip town on a bankroll provided by you."

Mac smoked in silence for a moment. "People aren't fooled by my story about an accident. They think King shot me, which is true, and that I strangled him, which isn't true. The best I could do was grab for him and scratch his face a little."

"So you scratched his face." There, Brant thought exultantly, was the logical explanation of those shreds of skin beneath Mac's fingernails. "How do you know people are saying you killed King?"

"Rigby told me."

"He's a crook if I ever saw one. Mac, a drunken man in Oliphant's saloon said at five o'clock today that he thought you had killed King. At one minute after five he was outside in the snow with a gash in his head and sore spots all over him. There was a bunch of your workmen in the place and they wouldn't stand for any talk like that. That's the kind of friends you have."

"They were drunk and spoiling for a fight."

"You shouldn't low-rate loyalty that way. What did Rigby come here for?"

"He said he thought I might know where he could locate Crane. His story is that Crane forged a flock of checks before he came up here and his job—Rigby's is to pinch him. He showed me a warrant."

Brant frowned. "You told me everything last night, didn't you, Mac?"

"The whole works. My head was clear as a bell right up to the time Ella found me. I didn't kill King. We wrestled for a minute before he shot me. Later I chased him as far as the door, then crawled back. If I'd gone out in the snow I'd be there yet."

"So who did the murder if it wasn't Crane?"

The mill owner stirred restively. "It's good of you to try to cheer me up, but you haven't got a leg to stand on. Just because Scott lost a cap and mitten and Crane did too, you want to make something of it. It doesn't prove anything."

"But looking at it reasonably—"

"What's the use? If I didn't kill Crane I'm sorry. I'd do it now if I had the opportunity. It would be a final good deed before I cashed in my chips. I don't mind dying. I haven't missed much in life."

"What will become of Ella without you?"

"I'm sort of counting on you to look after her."

"Me! I'd be a poor substitute for you, Mac."

"You know better. It was a mistake, my marrying her, but it isn't too late to rectify it."

Consentation went through him like high-frequency current. "Mac—"

"Don't yell, Andy." Mac's tone was quiet. "I knew you and she were engaged to be married. I thought it was all over when I asked her to marry me, and she thought so too. But I shouldn't have done it anyway. If I hadn't been too lonesome to think straight I'd have known it."

"After we were married I began to wonder. Oh, she'd never let me see she wasn't happy. But I noticed how carefully she listened when anybody mentioned your name. I began to see how dull it must be for her, living with an old codger who had forgotten how to do anything except work and fight."

"I have a couple of things to say, Mac," he began huskily. "Ella and I had a college romance that took a year or two to die out. There was one nice thing about it; we've stayed friends and probably always will. But that's the end of it, and if it wasn't intended to be the end we'd never have drifted so far apart."

"The second thing is, you've given Ella what I could never give any woman—the ideal of a strong, unselfish, self-reliant man, one she can count on no matter what happens. Compared to you I'm a kid, with most of my mistakes ahead of me. She has anchored herself to you and as long as you stay put she knows she'll never have to be afraid of anything. And this thing I know: if you slide out on her now, nobody on God's green earth will ever make her stop missing you."

Mac dropped his cigar into the tray on the table by the bed. He said, "You should have been a preacher."

"Think it over, will you?" "Why not? I've thought about it a lot, but I can think some more if Frank Sperry doesn't dope me up too much."

SEEK BODIES IN TRAIN WRECKAGE

Goswick, England, Oct. 27 (AP)—Rescuers searched for additional bodies today in the wreckage of a Edinburgh-London express train which jumped the rails near here yesterday, killing at least 21 and injuring 71 in the second disaster in three days on Britain's war-worn railways.

(Dispatches from Edinburgh, Scotland, placed the casualty figures at 23 dead and 70 injured.)

The accident occurred on a stretch of track under repair near this northern England coastal town.

The express piled up at nighttime along a golf course whose clubhouse was transformed immediately into an emergency hospital

He was a member of Benders Lutheran church. A memorial service, at which the Rev. H. W. Stenat officiated, was held April 22, 1945, at that church.
Inducted In 1944
Pvt. Smith was also an infantryman. He was killed in action December 5, 1944 in Germany after less than a year of service with the armed forces. He was inducted January 24, 1944, and received basic training at Camp Blanding, Fla. After a furlough home over the Fourth of July, he was sent overseas August 12, 1944, going first to England and then to France. The last letter received by his parents was dated November 12, at which time he was believed near Luxembourg.
Born August 26, 1922, he was a member of the Holy Name Society of Conewago chapel and of the Irishtown fire company. He was survived at the time of his death by his parents, Hilary A. and Mary M. (Smith) Smith, who lived near McSherrystown, a brother, Bernard P. Smith, and a sister, Mrs. Edgar C. Worley, Hanover R. 4.
A military high mass in his honor was sung December 30 at Conewago chapel by the Rev. Fr. John P. O'Donnell.

250,000 Watch Procession
New York police estimated that 250,000 persons watched the funeral procession and 150,000 attended memorial services in Central Park as guns roared salutes and church bells tolled.
The flag-draped casket of a posthumous congressional medal of honor winner—chosen to represent his comrades in arms anonymously—was born on a caisson from the transport to the park and placed on a catafalque.
Catholic, Protestant and Jewish chaplains participated in the memorial services.
Most of those in the front section of the assemblage reserved for the next-of-kin held their composure, but some broke down. Elderly women and small boys and girls, joined by men in and out of uniform, gave way to their grief.
Along the route of the cortege, a brief stop was made at the eternal light, a memorial to World War I dead in Madison Square, and a wreath was placed there.
The assemblage at the Sheep meadow in Central Park bowed heads in prayer, listened to hymns and heard speakers warn that America's 260,000 combat dead will have died in vain if the nation does not maintain its military establishment.

Union Vesper Service
The third of the Union Vesper services was held Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Christ Reformed church, near Littlestown, the Rev. John C. Brumbach, pastor. The service was very largely attended and it was a Reformation Day service, in observance of the Reformation which falls on October 31. The service prepared by the Federal Council of Churches was used. The Rev. Mr. Brumbach presided at the service, which was divided into four parts. The first part was entitled "Approach to God," and included an anthem by the choir, "Know that I am God." The second part was a confessional and was in charge of the Rev. Kenneth James. The third part was an Affirmation which consisted of a responsive scripture lesson, also led by the Rev. Mr. James. The Reformation Day sermon was delivered by the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds on the theme, "What a Protestant Believes."
The fourth part of the service was in charge of the Rev. Grantas E. Hooper and was a prayer of intercession and dedication which was climaxed by a choral response by the choir. The Rev. Mr. James pronounced the benediction. Miss Norma Miller, church organist, presided at the organ and the chorister, Paul Berwager, was in charge of the music.
The service next Sunday evening will be held in St. John's Lutheran church and the sermon will be delivered by the Rev. John C. Brumbach.
